PLANS FOR the spring months were made by directors of the Tulare County Cow Belles at a meeting held Friday afternoon at the Lee L. Gill home in Frazier valley.

FAIR BOARD "GOES TO WORK;" EXHIBIT SPACES BEING SOLD; PLANS MADE FOR MAY EVENT

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — Directors of the Porterville fair will "go to work" in earnest when they meet next Tuesday night, 7 p.m., at Gang Sue's in Porterville to start detailed planning for the production of California's largest, non-tax supported fair, slated for the Porterville fair grounds May 21, 22 and 23.

Major business of the evening will concern the naming of a director to replace Ira Marks, who recently resigned from the board; the appointment of department heads for the 1959 event, and consideration of a report from the fair's livestock committee, headed by F. R. Farnsworth, involving recommended procedures this year.

Meanwhile, sale of commercial exhibit space has been started in Porterville by Ernie Cassidy, exhibits superintendent, who reports that reception by local business firms has been excellent. Cassidy will start the sale of program advertising in the near future.

California Glee Club Sings In Auditorium

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — An evening of song will be presented by the 45-male-voice glee club of the University of California, when this world-famous group appears in the Porterville Memorial auditorium the evening of January 31, at 8 p.m.

Under the direction of Robert Paul Commanday, the program will include Schubert's "Song of the Spirits Over the Waters", considered to be possibly the finest piece ever written for male chorus; also the "Sculptor's Chorus" from Berlioz' Benevenuto Cellini, and a version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Ruddigore or the Witch's Curse."

Smaller groups will perform during the evening, including a comedy quartet and the glee club octette. The appearance of the glee club is sponsored by the local unit of the California Alumni association.

Grapes Shipped For Dimes March

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22—Vincent and John Zaninovich, of the Porterville Grape association, and P. J. Divizich, of Ducor, joined grape growers and shippers of Tulare county to make up an order for sale on the New York market, with all funds going to the current March of Dimes campaign.

ARABIAN HORSES IN FAIR SHOW

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22—Members of the Arabian Horse Association of the San Joaquin valley, at a meeting in Visalia, Saturday night, planned participation in the 1959 Porterville fair, which will be held May 21, 22 and 23, and conducted other business of the association.

Arabian breeding classes will be shown and judged the afternoon of May 21, as a first-day feature of the fair, to continue the Arabian horse show that was started two years ago.

During the grandstand show each night of the fair, Arabians will be exhibited in action, with riders in colorful Arabian costumes. (Continued On Page 8)

FOOD EDITORS TAKE FIRST-HAND LOOK AT CENTRAL VALLEY'S NEW CITRUS AREA

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — A two-day tour through the new citrus areas of the San Joaquin valley with some of the nation's top food editors as guests is expected to bring favorable editorial comment to Sunkist Growers, Inc., and to the valley citrus industry generally.

Under auspices of Sunkist Growers, the conducted bus tour brought the food experts to the Tulare County Lemon association

ELDON HUNT AND ELIZABETH DOBSON STARRER IN BARN THEATER PRODUCTION OF "THE MATCHMAKER", OPENING FRIDAY

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — Two Hossie winners will be starred when the Porterville Barn theater presents Thornton Wilder's comedy, "The Matchmaker", that opens tomorrow night for Friday and Saturday runs over the next three weekends.

Eldon Hunt, of Porterville, who appeared in the Barn's first play 'way back when, has the role of Horace Vandergelder, a tight-fisted Yonkers widower; Elizabeth Dobson, of Exeter, will play the part of the interfering Mrs. Dolly Levi.

Importance Of Saucelito Vote Stressed

SAUCELITTO, Jan. 22 — Importance of the Saucelito Irrigation district election, February 3, to determine whether or not the district goes into a $4,712,500 distribution system construction program, is being stressed by Everett Cloer, chairman of the district board.

Cloer said that the current dry season points up the necessity for supplemental water in this area; he said that since formation of the Saucelito district in 1941, basic efforts have been aimed toward eventual distribution of water to all irrigable lands, and that if the project is voted down, the district (Continued On Page 8)

Gange To Speak

TERRA BELLA, Jan. 22 — Stary Gange, of Visalia, nationally known speaker, will talk on "Tomorrow Will Be A Busy Day" at annual Terra Bella chamber of commerce banquet, Monday evening in the memorial building. Stanley Trueblood, of Porterville, will be master of ceremonies.

$203.75 Bonus Waiting For Tuesday Shopper

Greenhands Become Chapter Farmers

PORTERVILLE, January 22 — Greenhand members of the Porterville Future Farmer chapter who this week moved up to the degree of chapter farmer are: Neal Cook, Earl Forshee, Gordon Todd, Carson Blevins, Darrel Schieler, Elza Weisenberger, Wayne Phillips and John Green.

STATE MOVES TO ACQUIRE CAMP SITE

SPRINGVILLE, Jan. 22 — The State of California is now in the process of acquiring a term permit from the U.S. Forest Service as site for construction of an 80-man, all-year conservation camp to house adult honor prisoners, according to Cecil Metcalf, deputy, state forester, of Fresno.

Location of the camp will be on U.S. Forest Service land, a mile and a half west of the state's present summer camp near Balch park, "down the hill" below the line of heavy winter snow.

The Forest Service has no objection to location of the camp on this site, according to Eldon Ball, supervisor of Sequoia National Forest.

Metcalf says that money for access road and utilities is expected to be available in July of 1960; that construction money will be budgeted by the state a year later, and that bids can be called then.

Action by the state immediately followed last Friday's announcement of results of a straw vote (Continued On Page 8)

Land Rush Under Way At Terra Bella

TERRA BELLA, Jan. 22.—Some 35 years ago the Cimmaron land rush was recreated down along the south Tulare county line for benefit of movie camera; now, a real land rush is underway within the Terra Bella Irrigation district.

But unlike the "old days," when a man got aboard his horse, or into his wagon to race for government land, the Terra Bella land rush is involved with sealed applications, bids, combination deals and legal wording. (Continued On Page 8)

WILLIAMS WILL MC BANQUET

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — State Senator J. Howard Williams will act as master of ceremonies for the fifty-second annual banquet of the Porterville chamber of commerce, Saturday evening, February 7, in the high school cafeteria, it was announced today by Ted Cornell, president of the chamber.

Senator Williams, a native of Porterville and a former manager of the Porterville chamber, is now serving his fourth, four-year term in the state Senate.

Special guests at the banquet will be honor students of the community, with the two top students from St. Anne's, Bartlett, Porterville high, and Porterville college receiving special recognition.

Speaker will be H. Lee Weber, business man, teacher and humorist, whose subject will be, "If We Should Bring Europe To Porterville."

Buescher Speaks Saturday Night At Annual Junior Chamber Banquet

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22—Walter Buescher, of Milwaukee, general sales manager for the Allis Chalmers company, will be the principal speaker at annual banquet of the Porterville junior chamber of commerce that will be held Saturday evening, 7 o'clock, in the Porterville high school cafeteria.

Outstanding young man of the year will be announced at the meeting; Buck Shaffer and his Studio Band will provide music; Allan Weaver, KTIP newscaster, will act as master of ceremonies.

A barbecued beef dinner will be served by the high school cafeteria staff; tickets are available from junior chamber members.

ELDON HUNT, left, of Porterville, and Elizabeth Dobson, of Exeter, play the lead rolls in the Porterville Barn theater production of "The Matchmaker" that opens Friday for a two-night run over the next three weekends. The Thornton Wilder comedy about New York society in the Gay Nineties, has been successfully presented on Broadway and in motion picture.

WATCH THAT DYNAMITE

Felony charges that have been filed against three Porterville minors, arising out of possession of gunpowder that was purchased without a permit, bring to attention a point of law that possibly a lot of us have overlooked but that we better not overlook in the future.

Actually, these boys did nothing of a malicious nature; they were just "experimenting", but with a cast iron pipe full of gunpowder, fused by a gasoline-soaked rag, it is indeed fortunate that someone wasn't killed in the experimental explosion.

But the case in point is that provisions of the California Health and Safety code make it a felony to possess gunpowder, dynamite, or other types of explosives without a permit, and it is a misdemeanor for a store to sell these items to anyone who does not hold a permit.

And what with hobbyists, and sportsmen, loading their own ammunition, and with farmers now and then doing a bit of blasting, and with members of the younger generation eager to build and launch their own rockets, there is considerably more demand for explosive materials now than in the past.

But the law is specific about such things. If you want to use gunpowder, dynamite, or other explosives, first get a permit from the State Fire Marshal and the State Forester through a local state forestry fire station — or face the possibility of a felony charge.

And if you sell these items, better brush up on the law concerning records that must be kept, and concerning the restrictions under which sales can be legally made — otherwise, you may face a misdemeanor charge.

We simply pass along this information in the form of a "word to the wise." If you're going to blast off, get your permit first.

TERMINUS DAM WORK STARTS THIS MONTH

VISALIA, Jan. 22 — Construction work is expected to start before the end of January on Terminus dam, that will be constructed by the U.S. Army engineers on the Kaweah river, about a quarter mile upstream from Terminus beach.

Total estimated cost is $23,600,000 for the 2,375-foot long, 250-foot high dam, which will form a flood control reservoir with a capacity of 150,000 acre feet. Minimum pool will be 8,000 acre feet.

Alcorn To Speak At Annual Credit Association Meet

TULARE, Jan. 22 — George B. Alcorn, director of agricultural extension, University of California, will be the principal speaker at annual dinner meeting of stockholders of the Visalia Production Credit association next Thursday evening, Veterans' Memorial building, in Tulare.

The association will be celebrating its silver anniversary; dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Green Construction company are contractors handling the construction job.

Along the Avenue

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — Status of traffic control lights on Olive street; surveys have been virtually completed in regard to traffic lights at Olive and Jaye, and Olive and Villa; it is likely that the project will be included in both city and county budgets for the next fiscal year; because of county and city boundary lines, cost of the Jaye street light installation will likely be shared on a basis of three-quarters by the city, one quarter by the county; Villa will be all county.

Newly-named local Boy Scout committee chairmen in the Fremont district: Pete Ferguson, organization and extension; I. J. Elliott, finance; E. L. Bradley, leadership training. District committee chairman is Virgil Brandt.

Glenco company, with a figure of $26,380, for construction of a new city control station, was low when city fathers opened bids Tuesday night.

Ballot proposition on April 7 will be an amendment to the city charter to place administration of the city library completely under city control to kill the threat of inclusion of the library in a new state plan for a great, state-wide library bureaucracy.

R. Hodgson & Sons have started to rebuild the burned out area in the 400 block on Main street, including Berkshire's restaurant, Leta Word's and Ken's Sporting Goods. Leta Word's will expand into space formerly occupied by the Palm Barber shop.

Porter Slough is being cleared through a county "work instead of relief" plan.

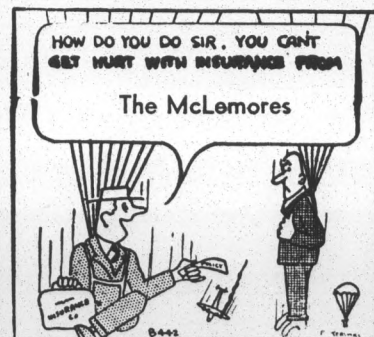

Mrs. Kathryn Lillian Bennett, a former resident of the Worth district, died this week in Long Beach; Mrs. Clara Pierce, a resident of the area for 38 years, died Friday at Springville.

REPUBLICANS WILL MEET FEBRUARY 11

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — Tulare County Republicans will hear a discussion of "Blueprint for Victory in '60", at a Lincoln day rally set for the evening of February 11, at the Veterans' Memorial building in Visalia, it was announced today by Bill Rodgers, of Porterville, county Republican chairman.

Participating in the discussion will be Ed. Shattuck, Republican National committeeman from Los Angeles, and George Milias, Republican state chairman from Gilroy. Program of cooperation from the national level, down through state and county organizations to the "grass roots" will be outlined by Shattuck, Milias and Rodgers.

The meeting will be sponsored on a county-wide basis by members of the Tulare County Republican Central committee. Program for the evening will be announced soon, it is stated.

Top-Rated Conference Teams Meet Porterville Pirates In Home Gym Friday and Saturday Nights

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — Coach Dick Weist's Porterville College Pirates will face the toughest weekend of their Central California conference basketball schedule Friday and Saturday when they host the strong Allan Hancock College Bulldogs and Coalinga College Falcons.

Hancock and Coalinga are rated 1-2 in the conference, with the Bulldogs keeping their record clear last weekend by edging the Falcons in a game at Santa Maria. Hancock previously had defeated College of the Sequoias and Reedley in league play while Coalinga murdered Taft and easily topped the Fresno City College Rams in previous games.

The visiting teams will bring two of California's top junior college individual performers to Porterville. Hancock is paced by 6-7 John Rudometkin, an all-American high school player at Santa Maria last season. Coalinga boasts Charley North, who set the league on fire last year and who is hailed by his coach, Sammy Vokes, as a coming Elgin Baylor, whom he coached as a collegian in Idaho.

The Pirates, while realizing they have tough games, conceded nothing. Weist's men have a 13-9 record for the season and a 1-1 mark in the league. After losing a 60-58 season opener to Fresno, the Pirates bounced back to wallop Taft last weekend.

The Pirates still will be hampered by injuries but hope that 6-9 Titus White and 6-6 Leugene Simpson can gain enough backboard control against the Bulldogs and Falcons to make an upset possible. Guard Ed Vondrak continues to be the team's leading scorer while Matt Pickett may move into a starting guard spot as a result of his fine performance against Taft.

EXCHANGE STUDENT HOME SELECTION

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22 — The local home in which a foreign exchange student will reside while attending Porterville High school next year will be selected at a meeting of a special Parent-Teacher association committee being held today, it was announced by the Rev. Bertram Saunders, chairman.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

CERTAINLY, SUNKIST Growers, will receive more than their usual share of kind words in newspapers and magazines of the nation as a result of a really sharp publicity tour that brought some of the nation's top food editors into the Tulare county citrus area for a couple of days last week.

FOR, AS one of the visitors from the east coast told us, "We hear about the citrus areas being replaced by subdivisions in southern California, and we hear about all your new plantings in Central California, but now that we've actually seen what's going on, we can understand the situation much better. And now that we've observed first hand the care and feeding of the orange, you'll surely see some results of this really fine tour in print."

AND TALKING frankly to a couple of newspaper women, we got a couple of frank answers. Said we, "What could be improved on a tour like this?" Frank answer No. 1. "Well, I've always heard that your Central California is not only great citrus country, but great cow country as well. For two days now we have been getting fancy creamed chicken and crab croquettes; I'm simply dying for a beefsteak."

FRANK ANSWER No. 2. "Someone, in one of the places where we have eaten should have dreamed up a really great orange recipe, something that we could get tremendously excited about and write about. Actually, we have had fresh orange juice only once on the trip; the Hacienda at Bakersfield did serve an outstanding orange sauce, but a great, new recipe, that's what we were hoping to discover."

TO WHICH we might add our own frank comment: The oranges that graced the Hotel Johnson tables in Visalia where this great array of food editor talent was entertained at lunch last Friday noon were nothing better than standards, naturally without the Sunkist stamp because they were far below Sunkist quality. Someone should have been sure that Tulare county put its best orange forward.

AND THEN we had another thought. When such a group as this is brought into the area, maybe the Cattlemen's association should have muscled in and seen that no one "simply died" for want of a fine steak. And, conversely, when the cattlemen bring their VIPs into the county, maybe Sunkist should muscle in and see that orange juice is available in abundance. . . . Maybe?

BUT SUNKIST is to be complimented on the idea of the food editor tour, and on the handling of the tour. General impression created was excellent; those east coasters who got up at 5 a. m. in order to take in Sequoia park before the citrus tour started in the morning were impressed and appreciative; as one of the editors, who has been in the business of writing words for many years and who has been wined and dined on something more than a few thousand occasions in efforts to woo the favor of those words, said: "I'm impressed; I have actually enjoyed myself, and I'll be back some day to take a longer look at your most beautiful country."

QUITE A statement, say we, coming from a real veteran lady of the press.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams

32nd District
California State Legislature

Organization of both houses of your Legislature is proceeding rapidly. Decisions have been reached in each house as to the number of standing committees which will be set up. Names of chairmen of all Senate Committees, and of some Assembly groups have been announced.

The Senate cut the number of its appointive standing committees from 20 to 19. The former social welfare committee was abolished. Its duties on public assistance legislation were transferred to the governmental efficiency group. Unemployment and disability insurance were reassigned to the re-named Insurance and Financial Institutions committee.

The Assembly, whose problems of bill congestion are considerably different from those of the Senate, split two of its former committees in half in order to speed up consideration of important measures. A new water committee and a new natural resources committee divide the work of the former conservation, planning and public works group. The need for improvement in facilities to hear proposed changes in criminal law was recognized by separating the judiciary group into two parts, criminal and civil.

It is hoped that the new Assembly committee structure will make it possible to assign each of its members to only three committees. It should also eliminate conflicts in meeting times between groups. A strong effort is being made to do away with night committee meetings, which for many years have been a burden on you, the public, as well as on your legislators.

The number of measures so far introduced continues to mount every day, but the total to date is still under that for the similar period in 1957. As hoped, the abolition of the recess is giving everyone of us more chance to study our proposed bills, and to discuss them with interested parties.

The pressure formerly on us to get all our bills, and perhaps a few extra "spot" bills in case of emergencies, drafted and introduced within 30 days, is gone, and we are rapidly getting accustomed to the new rules.

An interesting suggestion for further streamlining its operations is now receiving serious consideration in the Assembly. That is that a new rule be adopted to limit debate on non-controversial measures up for final action in order to save time. The proposed rule is modeled after the "consent calendar" rule of the House of Representatives, which has been used effectively for many years.

Many bills which will be of major significance have already been introduced, even though the new rules prevent their being heard in committee until 30 days after they are dropped in the hopper. An anti-discrimination bill is in the mill. So are several measures proposing basic changes in public assistance, unemployment and disability insurance. Bills proposing new state colleges, and others relating to public schools have also been put in. But so far, despite all the talk about need for new taxes, no bill proposing any has appeared. Taxation is one subject we are all studying very hard.

News Of The SPRINGVILLE COMMUNITY

By WINNIE GAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas have returned home from a trip to visit his two sisters in Phoenix, Ariz., and a brother Thomas, in Nogales, Ariz. They also visited their son Joe and family in La Puente, California.

Mrs. Robert Boles and children,

Ronny and Robin, of Monterey Park, were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Negus.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Parrish are announcing the arrival of their first child, a daughter, named Roberta Lea, weight seven pounds, one ounce. She was born in Japan where her father is in the service; her mother was formerly Leona Tiffen, and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Doolen.

The Springville Hobby Club met last Friday in the Friendship Hall of the Methodist Church for their January meeting.

After a short business meeting in which the group plans to plant native flower seeds along the new Highway 190 toward Porterville. Mrs. Winnie Gage was appointed chairman of procedures and to get permission from the State Highway superintendent.

Secret Pals were revealed and new names drawn.

Hostesses for the day were Carmah Hodge and Alice Smith.

Three new members were Juanita Radeleff, May Groome and Bessie Ruby. Mrs. Erma Stevenson was a guest. Others who enjoyed the day were Mmes. Lora Gage, Goldie Haggard, Ann Baird, Neil Southworth, Hazel Covington and Miss Lucille Higgins. The February meeting will be held in the home of Alice Smith.

The Springville Hotel and Melody Hill Tavern owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hammons has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. John Pallanes of Whittier, who will open the places by April first. The deal was made through the Sierra Realty Co.

Scoutmaster Hans Behrens and den mothers Mrs. Frank Hill and Mrs. Charles Newman of Troup 66 of Tulare, with nine Cub Scouts spent Saturday in the hills near the Frank Negus ranch on Balch Park Road.

Postmaster and Mrs. Lloyd Skiles attended the Tri-county Postmasters' dinner in Hanford last Sunday. Jack Thacker, Fresno area Field Service officer, was the main speaker, talking on "Efficiently handled Christmas mail and new postal equipment". The March meeting will be in Memorial building in Springville, with Grange members as hostesses.

The Home Economics ladies of the Springville Grange will have a rummage sale on Friday, Jan. 23, in Porterville on Main Street, next door to the Porterville Furniture store and across the street from the Pig Pen Cafe.

The 4-H boys and girls are to have a baked goods sale Saturday at 10 o'clock in Gifford's Market, Village Market and the post office.

The regular monthly meeting of the Springville 4-H Club was called to order by the president, Andrew Moore. The Pledge to the Flag was led by Lloyd Talbot and the 4-H Pledge by Judy Griswold. There was a report on the Hi-4-H meeting by Andrew Moore. Jerry Gould reported that the club sang Christmas carols to the patients in the Springville Hospital on the evening of December 22, afterwards going to the Fellowship Hall for games and refreshments and exchange of gifts.

A community project was discussed, and it was decided that the club should place a sign at the entrance to Springville with the words: "Springville 4-H Club Welcomes You".

It was decided to hold a food sale on Saturday, January 24. Marian Brockman, Katie Cox and Melanie Crabtree were appointed as a committee to make posters advertising the food sale.

It was decided to hold a box social on Valentine's Day, February 14, at 6:00 o'clock in the evening in the Veteran's Memorial hall.

Project reports were given by Mary Cox, Margaret Brand, Jerry Gould and Duane Lanteberger.

There were team demonstrations by Gwennie Root and Sharlene Brockman, Mary Cox and Maureen McDonald, Linda Lantsberger and Cynthia Choate.

The club members were then entertained by a square dance. The dancers were: Brent Gill, Katie Cox, Andrew Moore, Marian Brockman, Barbara Corzine, Gerald Chadwick, Carole Avery and Judy Griswold.

When you're buying a new home you need all the HELP you can get!

Just about every new-home buyer feels "all at sea." You get conflicting advice. And even when you decide what general location, price range and size you prefer, you still can't see all the new homes.

Then you hear (and unfortunately it is true) that 2 out of 3 new homes being built are electrically obsolete. Obviously, you need a reliable guide to today's best new-home buys.

This national award helps you shop wisely

This is the Medallion Home symbol. Any home which earns this award meets all these standards:

1. All-electric kitchen, including electric range and oven, installed as part of the basic plan and cost.

2. Wiring for today and tomorrow. Current, circuits, outlets and switches for all of your present needs, plus extra capacity for new electrical helpers you will want in the near future. Full Housepower.

3. Lighting which is beautiful and functional. Provision for room, hallway and entrance lighting which not only illuminates those areas for safety and eye comfort, but is decorative as well.

And Medallion Homes stay up-to-date. The features which make a Medallion Home fun to live in also protect its value.

So look for the Medallion Home award. No family should buy a home without it.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

THERE IS NOTHING THAT pleasures up the citizenry of our town, or any other town for that matter, like a good, irresponsible debate. An irresponsible debate is a very high type of mental exercise indeed, and the first casualty is accuracy. The rules are very simple. Anyone who has anything to say can say it, regardless of the truth, but can't be held accountable. This is the charm of the pastime.

IT HAS COME TO OUR attention from one place and another, that there is an irresponsible debate in progress out at the Porterville High school. Many statements are being made by one and all, and anyone with a real or imaginary soap-box is welcome. The discussion centers around the horrid phrase, "Closed Campus", and has caused more high flown oratory than the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

SOME YOUNG ADULTS OF our acquaintance, who also pass for teen-agers on occasion, brought us up to date on this proposition. In clear and agonized tones, they explained what their conception of a closed campus was. Roughly it is a highly restricted area, surrounded by a 10-foot, escape-proof fence, said fence undoubtedly having a high tension wire festooned around the top. Presumably there are huge dogs of a very hungry nature, prowling around the outside, snarling at the inmates, and conducting themselves in very unfriendly fashion. Inside the fence are a bunch of clear-eyed, upstanding young Americans of the teen-age variety. As a matter of fact, they are not upstanding for very long, because the cafeteria facilities are so crowded that they can't get enough to eat and are pining away for some of that delicious, macaroni casserole that chews like bubble gum.

IN THE MEANTIME the faithful hot-rods that have never gone over thirty-three miles an hour, even on straight-aways, sit in the sun with their tires rotting off from disuse. Man, this is a gruesome picture, but these gems have been culled from the irresponsible debate.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, the situation was brought more or less into focus by the fact that some of the citizenry are not as agile as they used to be. It makes them highly nervous to dodge the cars along Olive street at noon time when all they want to do is go home and eat in peace and quiet. When they see cars dashing this way and that around Olive and Jaye, they immediately want to corral them.

ONE THING THAT THE young adults should remember in these debates. Many loose statements have been made about "rights". But rights imply responsibility. If the students have the right to go off and on the campus, then they have the responsibility to behave in orderly fashion. Period. We would suggest that the students get together, work up a practical plan for some sort of order and present it to the authorities. This is a lot more practical, but not half the fun that an irresponsible debate is. In the meantime, get my soap box and let me join the fun!

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Q. "I have had an irritated bowel for 5 years. Is this the same as colitis? Is there a cure?"—An Ohio reader.

A. The term "bowel" applies to the entire intestinal tract whereas "colon" refers to only the large intestine. Colitis is all too common and severe cases are none too easy to deal with. It varies from a mild spastic condition to severe inflammation of the lining tissues. Cures are often possible in mild cases of colitis—less likely in advanced cases. Surgery is always considered when the condition has advanced to a point where life is threatened. The emotions seem to play a large part in causing colon flare-ups. Let a colitis patient get all worked up over some personal problem and he is likely to backslide far enough to erase months of successful treatment. Doctors do everything they can to prevent these stress-caused flare-ups.

Q. "Is a navel rupture in an 8-month-old baby harmful? Should it be taped?"—Mrs. K.D.

A. Although the common umbilical hernia (navel rupture) usually corrects itself without treatment, the condition often causes much worry among parents. Some physicians recommend taping while others believe such treatment is not only useless but also delays natural cure. A British doctor studied 100 babies with umbilical hernia. Almost all small, untreated hernias disappeared during the first year of life. Taping helped when the hernias were large.

Q. What does the word "psychosomatic" mean?

A. Psychosomatic refers to a physical disorder of the body which is caused by or aggravated by emotional processes. However, when a doctor says that a certain disorder is psychosomatic or has psychogenic causes, he does not mean that it is "all in your head" or that something is wrong mentally or that you are a neurotic. He is simply taking into consideration that no one is always in complete harmony with himself. We are all under some emotional tension and this can affect the heart, stomach and other organs. The emotions (hate, fear, anger and the like) are powerful forces which can and often do contribute to physical ills.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

STATE CATTLEMEN CONSIDERING STUDY GROUPS TO DIG INTO TAX PROBLEMS RELATED TO AGRICULTURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22 — California cattlemen, concerned about growing tax problems, have taken action to deal with them.

The statewide California Cattlemen's association and local county cattlemen's association's are exploring the possibility of setting up, in conjunction with other agricultural organizations, county tax-study committees which would also study other agricultural problems.

A committee of agricultural organizations functioning in this manner in Humboldt county has demonstrated its value in this field and has attracted wide attention.

The cattlemen, at their recent annual convention in Santa Rosa, called for action assuring the assessment of agricultural lands as such and not on the basis of future potential uses.

The tendency in some areas has been to increase the valuation of agricultural lands for tax purposes.

es as urban, industrial and residential developments move close. The cattlemen believe this procedure is "unjust and detrimental to agriculture."

Cattlemen also want differences in the treatment of capital gains and losses under State and Federal income tax laws ironed out to end "costly and inequitable confusion." They suggest that the California income tax law be amended to conform with Federal law provisions concerning the treatment of capital gains and losses.

CHAPEL CHIMES

By Rev. N. J. Thompson

Dr. L. M. Gould, president of Carleton College, Minnesota, writes, "Our greatest threat is not from bombs. Nineteen of twenty-one notable civilizations died from within, not by conquest from without. We must stop gagging at the word Spiritual."

Says Dr. Leslie White, U. of Michigan, "We may be extinguished, vanish from the earth in the incandescence of thermo-nuclear explosion. The time of decision is near at hand."

These thinkers agree that man faces danger and death. Both say this peril stems from the evil in our own hearts. Anger, jealousy, and hatred stalk the world, bringing the climax of help through the Bible, prayer, and worship.

Are You following religion as a sort of social club, where you sing a hymn or two, listen to a 15-minute typed lecture, then hurry to the church basement for a coffee hour or movies? Or are you, as a Christian, ashamed of our scandalous divorces and crime, of the dust on our Bibles, of our materialistic merry-go-round, and our shallow prayer life?

Babylon, Greece, and Rome crumbled because of rottenness within. No muffled drums are beating Great Britain's funeral march as her mighty empire crumbles. From her godly shores once poured missionaries, money, and Bibles to win the world to God. What evil humbles the British lion? Not enemies without, but the cancer of godlessness within.

Ho, America! Don't wait till the hell-bombs burst! Too late then to cry for God's mercy. Stop hiding your head in the sand. Face the danger bravely. Your worst enemy is—You! Stop gagging at spiritual experiences! Cultivate spiritual power, from personal holiness derived from vital contact with a holy and living God.

Nail your flag of faith to the mast, and keep it flying.

Fall celery is virtually cleaned up in the state.

ROCKWELL EMPLOYEES REJECT UNION

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22—Rockwell employees voted to reject the Teamsters' Union by a six to one margin in an NLRB election held at the Porterville plant last Friday morning. Ninety seven per cent of the eligible employees of the Porterville plant voted.

C. N. Perry, manager of the local Rockwell plant said, "I am certainly glad to learn that our employees have so overwhelmingly expressed their confidence in our ability to work with each other cooperatively and without outside interference."

The election was conducted by Shirley N. Bingham, NLRB representative from San Francisco. William Benson and Marvin Rambo were the official observers.

The local Rockwell plant has been in operation since mid 1957 and was brought to Porterville by the Porterville Civic Development foundation. It is one of 23 manufacturing plants operated by Rockwell Manufacturing company which is engaged in the production of valves, meters and power tools.

The local plant manufactures gas meters, repairs valves and industrial meters. It also acts as a distribution facility for the company's other products.

During the year we save many indoor jobs for rainy days, but this year may prove our undoing. We may be forced to crawl over piles of saved up jobs for another year. If we have two dry years in a row you may not be able to find us at all because of the stuff piled around.

Just arrived are some trees for people not able to make up their minds about the kind of fruit they want. These trees have three kinds of Peaches, or Pears, or Apples, or Apricots, or Cherries, or Nectarines all on one. This is especially good if your wife wants one kind and you want another. Saves digging so many holes too.

The real reason, however, is to save space, to provide fruit over a longer season, and to produce just enough fruit without too much surplus. These can be chosen so as to do all of these things. They are fairly large trees with a fairly large price of around eight seventy five. Well worth it though.

While we're speaking of edible things, the Seed Potatoes have arrived in both reds and whites — Onion Plants and Onion Sets are in good supply. Vegetable Seeds are fresh and ready to go. Asparagus should be planted now and if you run out of jobs don't forget to spray the roses and fruit trees. Just call SU 4-6213 or come in person to "E" Street north of Olive for further ideas on how to spend your leisure time.

FISH FOR FEATHERS

By PHIL the FORRESTER

Big game hunters can pursue the native wild pig of Arizona, the Javelina, February 6 to 15, inclusive, with a bag limit of one animal. The non-resident fee this year will be $20 plus a pig tag for $1. Out of state hunters can add another $5 and go fishing in Arizona on the same trip.

Quite a number of duck hunting violation cases made in Merced County that have just been judged in federal court. We have a memo of eight cases, all for late shooting except one for using an unplugged shotgun. Total fines were $675. We are very much concerned over these cases going to federal instead of state court because the Merced sportsmen lose half the amount and our fish and game department loses the other half. When game law violators are fined in federal court, the money goes to Uncle Sam and the amount which could have been used for the good and welfare of fish and game is lost forever.

Coot season comes to a close on January 2 except that some crop depredation permits will be issued. One case is Cecil Tracy Ranch out of Buttonwillow, Kern County where a special hunter's coot hunt has been arranged for the next three Sundays, closing February 7. Hunters must register at the Buttonwillow Post Office and there is no charge. A state hunting license is required but a duck stamp is not necessary to take coots.

There will be a public hearing at the San Luis Obispo County court house at 9:30 a. m., Jan. 24, with reference to alternating closed and open beaches to the taking of Pismo clams.

Avocado Lake, Fresno County, has been producing some nice black bass. Trout continue to be taken from Pine Flat.

Bass Lake, Madera County, open year round, night or day for any species of fish including trout has been providing a few of the latter up to three pounds.

Black bass and catfishing has been fair in the Merced River.

Lake Cachuma, 25 miles north of Santa Barbara on Highway 150, has been supplying some very good bass and bluegill fishing. Trout fishing in this county is open year round.

THIRTEEN NEW CLASSES AT ADULT COLLEGE

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 22.—Thirteen new classes for adults are included in the second semester schedule of the Porterville Evening college, R. R. Reising, director, has announced. Each class must have a minimum enrollment of 15 students, where credit is to be offered, Reising said. The class must begin at the start of the semester.

New class offerings include: Electronics, modern literature, algebra I, rocks and minerals of California, anthropology, public speaking, salesmanship, consumer education, advanced first aid, regional geography, and driver training.

Registration may be made at the adult school office on the college campus before Monday, Jan. 26, the opening date of the second semester. Full information concerning the classes also is available at the office, Reising said.

Included on the three-day and three-night program will be a professional grandstand show each night, featuring the best outdoor acts available on the coast; an Arabian horse show on May 21; a Quarter horse show, May 22; junior fat stock auction, May 23; a "million dollar" exhibit of Future Farmer and 4-H livestock from exhibitors residing in the Porterville and Strathmore Union High School districts, plus colorful commercial and club displays.

The fair will be in its 12th year this year, starting as a chamber-of-commerce project on the Porterville high school campus, then expanding into a non-profit corporation with permanent site adjacent to the Porterville municipal ball park.

The fair operates without aid of state funds; final indebtedness was paid off last year; property and facilities, built through the years by substantial contributions of time and labor, plus materials secured at cost, are valued at approximately $50,000.

trict's agreement with the bureau of reclamation that makes Central Valley project water available to the district may be jeopardized.

Actually, two items will appear on the February 3 election ballot: Item No. 1 is more or less a technical matter by which voters are asked to confirm acceptance of 5,900 acre feet of water annually as an addition to original district commitment, resulting from recent inclusion of new land in the district.

Item No. 2, which requires a two-thirds vote, concerns the acceptance by district voters of a $4,712,500 project for construction of a distribution system that will bring Friant-Kern canal water to all irrigatable lands within the district.

The project comes under provision of Public Law 130, through which interest-free, federal money will be used to finance the project, with repayment over a 40-year period.

If this vote is favorable, then the district is in a position to ask validation of the project, after which design plans and specifications will be completed — possibly by the end of August. Another 30 days would be required to set up bids, after which actual construction could be started, to possibly bring water onto the lands by late 1960.

The Saucelito district now has available 21,200 ac. ft. of Class 1 water and 32,000 ac. ft. of Class 2 water. At present the district is operating under an interim plan, whereby water is distributed into the district over the side of the Friant-Kern canal, by use of the Deer Creek channel, and by use of various ditches within the district.

Last year, 32,000 acre feet of water was brought into the district — all that could be handled without a distribution system, it is stated.

The Saucelito district has a total of 19,999 acres, of which 16,680 are irrigatable. Present ground water level is from 100 to more than 300 feet in the district.

Polling place for the February 3 election will be the district office, on avenue 120 a quarter mile west of the Friant-Kern canal. Poll will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m., there are about 200 eligible voters within the district.

VANDALIA 4-H PLANS FAIR WORK

VANDALIA, Jan. 22—Members of the Vandalia 4-H club have voted to place benches, shelves and clothing hooks in the dressing rooms on the Porterville Fair grounds. Committee chairman is John Crosiar; leader is Roland Crosiar. The work will be done as a community service project.

taken in the area on the question of whether or not the prison camp was favored by residents of the area.

In Springville, Globe and Denison precincts, 260 "yes" votes were tabulated; 213 "no" votes. In McFarland precinct, centering in Success valley, where arrangement for the vote was made after the original plan was set up, vote was 50-15 against a state camp.

FRASER REELECTED

TULARE, Jan. 2.—Clarence L. Fraser, Dinuba, has been elected to his 11th consecutive term as chairman of the Tulare county fair board.

Land Rush

Yet there is probably just as much interest in Terra Bella as there was in the Cimmaron rush, for 350 persons have checked into the office of the Terra Bella Irrigation district to learn details of the current land sale, and many others have taken a look without going to the office.

Involved are 2,300 acres of district-owned land, to which water will be brought through the development program that is now underway within the district. This is the first of several land sales, with eventually, something over 7,000 acres of district land probably going on the market.

The present 2,300 acres is broken into 56 parcels, with a minimum price established on each parcel. Applications to buy will be opened by directors of the district at 10 a. m., February 2; if more than one offer is made on a parcel, then a second application must be submitted at a second meeting, February 9.

Basically, land sale is on a bid basis, however, this is not entirely true, since a combination deal is possible. Details can be obtained from the district office in Terra Bella.

Land that is now being sold includes some that is ideal for citrus, some that is suited for row crops. Average minimum price runs around $450 per acre—a figure that some local farmers say "prices them out of the market," but which makes some of the southern California people wonder, "what's wrong, why so low."

Arabian Horses

tume—a fair feature that is being repeated because of the great spectator interest indicated by a similar display of Arabian horses last year.

Other items of business covered by the Arabian association included consideration of a horse-judging school at the Jones Stables in Porterville, in April, and a two-day ride in the Sugar Pine area east of Fresno during July. Plans were made for regular monthly association meetings.

The Valley Arabian Horse association includes members from Fresno, Kings, Kern and Tulare counties. Attending the Visalia meeting from Porterville were: Joe Harris, Dr. Bill Baucum, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones.
